

Qualifications

In June 2020, I will complete my Bachelor in Photography (Honors) at the University of the Arts London (London College of Communication). The program is both a practical, academic and considered a Fine Arts education. I have learned photographic techniques both digital and analog, studio and lighting setup and photography as art and its history. As honors, I have also worked with academic research and analysis.

In the course, I have gained a great deal of insight into art and art history, and learned to write reviews, compile exhibition catalogs and gained advanced knowledge of the Adobe Creative Cloud. In the course I have also taken supplementary subjects and workshops in different types of bookbinding, basic programming and different printing techniques. In addition, throughout my studies I have worked as a freelance photographer as well as being part of a team that has coordinated events and exhibitions. Use of social media is an integrated part of my field. I am thorough, patient and good at familiarising myself with new issues and finding solutions to them.

Interests

I value spending time with my friends and family, especially in a cultural context such as a trip to the gallery, museum, theater or cinema. When I was considering what to study, I was between photography and theater production, traces of which can be found in my photographic work.

I am especially fond of collage, the multi-dimensional and playing with the space to find new forms of expression. I love books, obviously their content, but also the book itself as an artistic craft.

I love traveling to meet people and get to know new cultures. I have done this a lot, both with my family and as an exchange student in Ecuador and as a student in London.

I am politically interested and have participated in electoral campaigns and been a volunteer at polling stations.
